When we buy clothes, we tend to compare prices of two different or same pieces or fabrics of two different pieces.

We don't know that but we always do it without even knowing and then buy the one that has more quality even though it might be expensive.

I am pretty sure, a lot of you can relate and if you deny that either you are rich or you are lying. This also happens in writing. Students are often given tasks to draw analogies on two texts, movies, shows, documentaries, stories or even journal articles.

These are called compare and contrast essays. You must have been introduced to such types of essays in your high school to compare and contrast two ideas. The most common topic for this type would be "online vs traditional classes".

I have loved this kind of essay because it allows us to read and expand our knowledge on more than two things. I was a write my essay for me kind of person in class because my peers would often request me to write their essays for them. It's an amazing feeling to help others for a reward.

$20 is what I would charge them for. Most of you are already familiar with such students. They are called nerds and they are the one who do the most studying and do not regret it at the end of the semester.

Back to compare and contrast essays.

Compare and contrast essay could be an independent task or maybe part of a paper such as a thesis, etc. professors often assign tasks to compare and contrast two abstract ideas such as theories, historical periods, or methods) and specific topics (personalities, book characters, or countries).

There are few rules to remember before writing such types of essays.

Develop an argument for the paper.

You can't start your essay directly comparing and contrasting two ideas, you have to develop an argument, give background information and then, talk about their comparison. You have to reflect on the idea as to why it is important.

For example:

Marvel movies are better in cinematography and characterization than DC movies.

You need to give background information on Marvel as well as DC movies before proceeding to the main argument. Don't forget to write key points that make the Marvel movies stand out from the DC movies.

Structure of the essay

In any form of essay, the structure of the essay is a vital element. Although the standard scheme is, introduction-main body- conclusion. In the introduction, you have to write the hook and it should be a compelling one. Hook has to be placed at the beginning of your essay.

Some of the students always struggle with the structure of the essay and if you are one of those, ask any college essay writing service to help you with that. It's alright to ask for help if you are stuck in a tight spot. Ask for the sample for clear understanding and make sure you learn how to write essays.

The conclusion comes at the end and you have to ensure that you conclude all the arguments and restate your thesis. Paraphrase the thesis rather than restating word for word.

Essentials of Compare and Contrast Essay Format

This is the most important part of the compare and contrast essay. Introduction and conclusion are already cleared, however, you should organize your main body using three methods.

Point by Point.

This method is all about evaluation criteria. You have to compare the two things using a point-by-point method. For example, if you are comparing Target and Walmart, you will talk about the sales, the quality of the products, and the reliability of these products. You have to dwell upon each point. Topic by Topic.

This method requires you to talk about one thing. You then move on to the distinct features and after completely describing everything about it, you move on to the next thing. It's the most understandable method, however, it isn't a very reliable method because it looks less like comparison and more like points. Is it legit to pay free essay writing service to write my paper? No one can legally stop you from paying someone to write an essay for you.

Common and Different Separately.

This one requires you to describe the similarities first and differences later. You contrast it at the end of the paper. It's up to you if you want to highlight similarities or differences.

Outline the paper

It's best to properly organize the paper rather than filling your paper with scattered ideas. Outlining will give you a clear image of what you want to write first. Outlining involves Structure planning, a variant of essay, point organization in a specific order. You will see that you won't have to write much because the only thing that's left is an expansion on the already written content.

Some students find it a very exhausting method even though it's one of the simplest methods. You can ask a write my paper free to outline for you and then, you can expand the paper. I think this will solve most of your problems but I'd still suggest you try it yourself.

There are few more things to remember when you are writing compare and contrast essay:

- Always allocate time when you want to write. Give it at least 10 minutes before getting started.
- Brainstorm because you will get a lot of help regarding this.
- The outline is essential that I have already mentioned above.
- You should try writing the main body first.
- get your essay for review by a friend or teacher to learn about mistakes and how to overcome them.

Good luck.
